

6. Pattern Extract Form *Print necessary numbers of copies and use them.

In order to draw up the form, cut 2. Actual Case Form by actual case and make actual case cards. It is required to have as many amounts of forms as number of groups. You can also write only one actual case in the group.

Pattern Form No. () *Put reference numbers to two parentheses in the form.

① Attach the Actual Case Cards you cut on this form. (You can staple or transcribe them.)

② Focus on general relationship (a way of how things work) in actual case groups, and express key points in a single sentence (the sentence you are making is called pattern). If there is only one actual case, search general relationship (a way of how things work) that involved with the case and express it in a single sentence. Itemize and line them up if you can discover multiple patterns.

③ Choose one pattern that describe characteristics of actual case groups the most clearly. If there is only one pattern, please transcribe it. Write reference numbers in the form.

Pattern No. ()

④ Merge Pattern Extract Form that are similar in meaning to